During this week, I worked on multiple projects across design, development, CRO, and performance optimization. For Rrumi Diamond, I created the homepage wireframe, contributed to the homepage development using the development agent, and performed conversion rate optimization for the homepage. For Dodo Baby, I designed the homepage in Figma through the design agent. I also focused on improving the overall performance of the agent and successfully implemented two performance optimizations for Happie Planet and NxtFace using the agent. Additionally, I provided CRO suggestions for Neesh Perfume based on insights from Clarity Google Analytics and Shopify Analytics. Lastly, for Nabhisutra, I created the About Us page using the development agent.
